An Invitation

Dear Sir/Madam,

It is a matter of great privilege to share with you that S.D. (PG) College, Panipat is organizing a Multidisciplinary National Conference sponsored by Director General Higher Education (DGHE) Haryana on 23 February, 2022. This conference is being held to provide a platform to all the academicians, faculties, scholars and other participants to deliberate upon and discuss the prospects and challenges of Digital Transformation during COVID-19.

Digital transformation necessarily need not be assumed as technological advancement. It doesn't mean just re-inventing the software and hardware models. In other words the term digital transformation means the reorganization of the technologies, its process and the business models. This enables a new value for the consumers or customers in a steadily changing and growing digital economy.

The traditional business models seems to be fading and they are substituted with the business models which are flexible, which give real-time response to the customers and which can change instantly according to the demand. Now the present business world runs on industry 4.0. The main criteria the 4.0 has are the optimum usage of the human resources, produce huge profits with less cost of energy and infrastructure etc. one of the best digital transformation examples can be the solar-powered cars. The general concept of solar cells are implemented on the rooftop of the vehicles which harness energy from sun and charges the batteries which in turn drive the motor. This makes the vehicle to move from the position of rest. The conference discusses more on the effects of digital transformation on various sectors in Indian perspective. In these modern days, various companies in different sectors have started initiative activities to search and conceptual digital technologies as well as to utilize the outcomes.

College Profile

Established in the year 1958, S.D. (PG) College, Panipat has remained all along a vibrant, dynamic and fast growing educational institution during all these fifty two years of its existence. It is managed by S.D. Education Society (Regd.) Panipat which runs several other educational institutions in the town. The college has always remained responsive to the local and regional needs and has contributed significantly not only towards higher education but also towards social, cultural and economic development of the region. Here, the pupils are groomed in such a way that they become competent to face the professional challenges in the present day global scenario. The college is affiliated to Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra and is duly recognized and aided by the State Government and the UGC. The college possesses a rich and vibrant campus where social, academic and literary activities reverberate round the year. The college has organized various National and State level seminars, research conferences and workshops for the benefit of teachers, students and researchers in the past years.

Panipat – The Host City

The town of Panipat is located at a distance of 50 kms towards North of Delhi and 100 kms towards South of Chandigarh on the G.T. Road (Sharanpur Buri Marg) in the state of Haryana. DELNET - DEVELOPING LIBRARY NETWORK

DELNET is a major resource sharing library network in South Asia connecting more than 6,600 libraries in thirty three states in India and seven other countries. These libraries include academic libraries (Universities and Colleges), Government libraries, libraries of R & D organisations, among others. It is located in Jawaharlal Nehru University (JNU) Campus, New Delhi. DELNET provides access to millions of resources comprising e-books, e-journals, and other resources including more than 3 crore records of books, journals, periodical articles, video-recordings, sound recordings, theses and dissertations, etc. DELNET offers the Inter-library Loan and Document Delivery Service which is the best in South Asia. The service is being offered to promote resource sharing at the national and international levels among member-libraries of DELNET. DELNET also undertakes the creation of digital libraries, offers support to libraries in this field and gives consultancy services to institutions for a variety of activities including modernisation and automation of libraries. In order to modernise and network libraries, DELNET provides Delplus - the Library Management Software to member-libraries free of charge. The software conforms to international standards. DELNET also offers support for installing Koha software to its member libraries.

DELNET arranges training programmes, lectures, workshops and the National Convention on Knowledge, Library and Information Networking (NACLIN) every year.

NACLIN 2019: About the Conference

The library environment has undergone a major change in the last few decades. The ICT and ever growing expansion of digital resources have brought in a drastic change in the functioning, services and delivery of library content to the clientele. The libraries worldwide are in a constant flux and change. The users and their information seeking behaviors have also undergone major changes. The delivery of the content on anytime/anywhere basis on personal devices with personalised, precise tailoring of content remains much desired service the library users want.

The library work force remains the key focus of the administrators and users, who want them to be better equipped with latest skills and know-how to handle the resources, services and the emerging technologies. The library professionals need to reclaim their identities and demonstrate the critical roles they can play in the digital age. There is a greater need to re-energise, reorient and realign the roles and responsibilities of LIS professionals to accept the growing challenges of new information environment.

The 22nd National Convention on Knowledge, Library and Information Networking (NACLIN 2019) being organised from September 18-20, 2019 at Hotel Shourya Garh Resort (www.shouryagarh.com), Near Shilpgram, Rani Road, Off Fateh Sagar Lake, Udaipur will discuss a large number of latest issues under the theme "Emerging Innovations, Trends & Technologies for Libraries of the Future". The National Convention is held for three days. After the inauguration on September 18, 2019, tutorials will be conducted on the topics: 1. Library Innovative Services for User Engagement - 2. Mandelays: The Open Source Reference Management Application.

Next two days will focus on various themes of the National Convention under the main theme "Emerging Innovations, Trends & Technologies for Libraries of the Future" is sub-divided into the following sub-themes:

The Conference theme is sub-divided into following sub-themes

HOW TO REACH UDAIPUR

Maharana Pratap Airport at Udaipur is the closest at about 25 km northeast of the city centre. There are daily flights from all major cities in India. Udaipur is easily accessible by road and rail from every major destination in India, including Chittorgarh, Ahmedabad, Jodhpur, Ajmer, Sawai Madhopur / Ranthambore, Jaipur, Bikaner, Agra, Delhi, Mumbai, etc.

ABOUT UDAIPUR

Udaipur is a beautiful city, set amidst the Aravalli ranges of Rajasthan, India. Known for its picturesque lakes, Udaipur is also called 'the city of lakes'. The elevated hills and the beautiful lakes make a picture-perfect backdrop to the Udaipur city. Udaipur is considered as one of the most favourite cities for travellers.

Though termed as the city of lakes, Udaipur has many more attractions that catch the attention of the tourists with their charm. The city boasts of various museums, palaces, gardens, monuments and colourful festivals that allure tourists to visit the city for once.

Some of the tourist places near Udaipur includes Haldi Ghati & Museum (30 km); Shreenathji Temple (45 km); Jaismand Lake (50 km); Sanwariya Seth Temple (79.5 km); Kumbhalgarh Fort (80 km); Ranakpur Temple (85 km); Chittorgarh Fort (120 km); Tripura Sundari (155 km); Mount Abu (164 km)

PLACES TO VISIT IN AND AROUND UDAIPUR

Fateh Sagar: Fateh Sagar Lake is a beautiful lake which is located in Udaipur. It was constructed in 1778 A.D. and was named after Maharana Fateh Singh. It is situated north-west to Udaipur and in the north of Lake Pichola. There are three islands around the boundaries of Fateh Sagar Lake out of which Nehru Park is the largest. It is spread over 4 sq km area. Another island is constructed as a public park and houses a beautiful water fountain.

Lake Pichola: Lake Pichola is a fresh water lake which was constructed in 1362 A.D. by Maharana Udai Singh of Mewar. It was named after a nearby village, Picholi. It has developed a lot in the last few centuries and it is one of the most famous tourist attractions of the city. On Lake Pichola, there are four islands namely Jag Niwas, Jag Mandir, Mohan Mandir and Arsi Villas.

Doodh Talai: Doodh Talai Lake is a small lake situated adjacent to Lake Pichola, near the Shiv Niwas Palace (Residence of Maharana Fateh Singh). The lake is surrounded by hills—Manikya—Lal—Verma—Garden (Musical Fountain Garden) and Deen Dayal Upadhyay Park are very close to Doodh Talai and serve as a spot for tourists to visit and enjoy the scenic view.

Saheliyon-ki-Bari: Saheliyon-ki-Bari is a round-the-year favorite destination of tourists coming to Udaipur. This "Lok-Priya"—favorite of the public-garden was created at the orders of the Maharana Sangram Singh-II around 1717 for his daughters—Sabbai Kunwar, Roop Kunwar & Brij Kunwar and their cousins (sisters) of extended family & same-age girls (Saheliya) of nobles.

Sukhadia Circle: Sukhadia circle is a famous spot for entertainment for the people of Udaipur city. It is located near Panchwati which is at a distance of 4.6 km from Udaipur railway station. This famous spot was constructed in 1968 and was opened for public in 1970.

Gulab Bagh: Spread across 100 Acres of land, Gulab Bagh is the largest garden of Udaipur city. It was constructed by Maharana Sajjan Singh in 1878 A.D. and is also known as 'Sajjan Niwas Garden'. It is a major point of tourist attraction and houses a vast rose garden in its boundaries. Because of the vast variety of roses present here, the place got its name - Gulab Bagh. The Bagh also houses a library which has a collection of ancient handwritten books and scriptures.

Sajjangarh Fort: Sajjangarh Fort, also known as 'Monsoon Palace', is a grand fort situated at the hilltop of Udaipur. It was built by Maharana Sajjan Singh in 1874 A.D. Sajjan Singh had built this palace to watch his ancestral home in Chittorgarh and see the monsoon clouds, and hence, the place got its name as 'Monsoon Palace'. The palace, presently, is under the ownership of the forest department of Government of Rajasthan and is open for tourists.

Shilpgram: Shilpgram, located at a distance of 3 km from Udaipur city, is an arts and craft centre which has an open air theatre with a seating capacity of 8,000. It is spread across 70 acres of land and is surrounded by Aravali hills. It has a museum which houses the lifestyle of the tribal people of the area.

Bagore-Ki-Haveli: Bagore-Ki-Haveli is a palace built by Shri Amarchand Badwa in the 18th century. He was the prime minister of Mewar from 1751 till 1778. With over 138 rooms and glass and mirror interiors, the Haveli is a wonderful place for tourists to visit. It is located near Lake Pichola at Gengaur Ghat. The palace is an exemplary example of paintings and glasswork of Mewar times.

Pratap Memorial (Moti Magri): Pratap Memorial is also known as 'Moti Magri' and is situated near Fateh Sagar Lake in Udaipur. At the top of Moti Magri, lies the Maharana Pratap Memorial which has a statue of Maharana Pratap striding his horse Chetak. The memorial is made of bronze. Its construction was initiated by Maharana Bhagwat Singh Mewar and was completed by a public trust.

City Palace, Udaipur: Another must visit place in Udaipur for tourists, The City Palace, is a royal residence which was constructed over a period of more than 400 years. Several rulers of Mewar contributed in the development of the palace complex. Its construction was initiated by Maharana Udai Singh in 1553 A.D. The City Palace is located near Lake Pichola and has a number of small palaces and temples within its boundary namely Jag Mandir, Lake Palace, Jagdish Temple, Neemach Mata Temple and Monsoon palace.

"Feminine sensibility", as invoked by the post-Partition era, was characterised by "overfulnessness", a kind of feminine desire to bite more than one could chew. The era opened upon the upcoming female writers the floodgates of fiction. The decades that followed naturally gave us such talented women novelists as Kamala Markandaya (1924-2004), Nayantara Sahgal (1927-), Anita Desai (1937-), Shashi Deshpande (1938-) and Shobha De (1948-) who added, each in her own way, a whole yard to the dimensions of Indian English fiction. As female novelists, what they overenthusiastically accomplished in the process was something "only women could do". Hence their contribution to the "vitality, variety, humanity and artistic integrity that characterise the feminine sensibility". These women novelists seem, moreover, to justify the observation that "women are the natural story-tellers". Margaret Atwood has indeed a point when she says that "with their inborn skills in communication ... [they] are extremely good at finding things out, and so providing themselves with appropriate material". Hence, as Ian Watt confirms: "[As women, they are] better equipped to reveal the intricacies of personal relationships and ... [are] therefore at a real advantage in the realm of the novel". Besides, these Indian women novelists do not just play with words; they make no Anand- like efforts to Indianise English. With a pure, idiomatic, lucid language, they have such perfect command over English that they use it- "like a trained man does a trapeze with grace and pliability". "Nor do they add [needless] prefixes and suffixes to Indianise the words like Raja Rao ... they ... do not try to over-impose [the] vernacular tinge ... which would have marred its comprehensibility across the nation as India has [quite] a number of different languages and dialects in different regions". But, as representatives of their sex, they never fail to uphold the cause of women. They always concentrate upon their sufferings in the male-dominated society that still takes them as "ablas" or "the weaker vessels".
